

Capital College At Your Door Step

By Vidal Boltman

A United Kingdom (UK) based College, Capital College, which provides professional courses, has extended its tentacles to Sierra Leone.

Addressing pressmen at the Cape Sierra Hotel in Freetown on Thursday 30th October 2008, Principal cum Managing Director of the College, Mr. Taiwo A. Salami said the college has been in existence for the past 27 years.

“As an African who studied in the UK, I am appreciative of the British type of education and qualification,” he pointed out, while noting that this was why he taught it fit to extend the opportunity of the college to Sierra Leone in particular and Africa as a whole.

He said the college offers professional accounting courses and many others.

while pointing out that intending students in Sierra Leone will be offered the opportunity to pay half of the registration fees.

“Sierra Leoneans are full of potentials,” he assured, and encouraged all to make good use of the offer.

He said the students will have to travel to the UK where they will be provided accommodation.

“Some of the courses offered by the college are account and finance management ACCA, business executives/business information systems executives/travel, and tourism and hospitality executives ABE among other,” he maintained.

Registration will take place on Saturday 1st November 2008 at SAMCAM Institute at Syke Street in Freetown.