THE ONE TO WATCH: HIGH FLIER OF THE FUTURE

The shortlisted candidates

Amos Salami ACIS, Principal and
Managing Director, Capital College UK

Amos Salami has always been a great believer in education and continuous self-improvement. He started as an Office Junior, moving up through a series of roles to become an Administrative Manager before graduating from South West London College with a Diploma in Administrative Management. He is also a graduate of Anglia Ruskin University.

Amos worked with a blue chip company in the City for over 10 years, rising to Head of Administration. In 2004, he fulfilled his passion for education by incorporating Capital College UK. As someone who was himself an international student 24 years ago, Amos understands the problems faced by overseas students in the UK.
